

Grenada

Oct. 3-13, 2012

Best of the southern Caribbean!

Grenada, the Spice Island, way down at latitude 12, is home to beautiful beaches, spice plantations, rum distilleries, and colorful coral gardens. Relatively undiscovered, the new charter base here has been open for less than a year. Bordered by white and black sand beaches, this verdant island has for centuries been a major source of nutmeg, cloves, ginger, cinnamon and cocoa. The nearby Windward islands of the southern Caribbean offer superb tradewind sailing conditions, year-round temperatures in the 80's, crystal clear warm water, world-class snorkeling and a sea-turtle sanctuary in the Tobago Cays, and a variety of enchanting islands to discover and explore.

We will first fly from Miami down to Grenada, where we'll spend two nights in a luxury hotel, located right on the powder white sand beach, recovering from the flights and acclimating to the tropical island lifestyle. Explore the waterfalls and crater lake at Grand Etang, tour a spice plantation or rum distillery, maybe indulge in a local organic chocolate factory, or just relax on the beach and swim in the warm waters.

Next, we'll transfer to the charter base and board our waiting, luxury yachts. Most everything we could need or want is already on board, from snorkeling gear to a fully equipped galley to linens for the beds to a dinghy and outboard. A few minutes by dinghy takes you to a nice supermarket for provisioning. After that, the itinerary is up to you- as long as you bring the boat back after a week, as hard as that will be!

You may sail to the islands of Bequia, Mayreau, Carriacou, Canouan, Petit Martinique, and Union Island, part of St. Vincent and the Grenadines. Enjoy the towns and shopping and night life one day, then the pristine beach and coral reef of a deserted island the next. Dine at local restaurants, or maybe organize a lobster and fish BBQ, as October is lobster season. No matter your preference, you are sure to enjoy every minute of these fantastic, far reaches of the Caribbean.

After reluctantly returning the boats, we'll transfer back to our luxury hotel for one more night of relaxation and fun, then fly back to Miami the following morning. Your time here will feel like a world away, the long sunny days stretching into warm starry nights. Peace, tranquility, a warm interaction with nature, good food and new friends... This is what a sailing vacation is supposed to be!
